Business group pledges to help develop Bellaire Town Square

Patrons for Bellaire Parks has received the first payment on First Surgical Partners' $100,000 pledge to help develop Bellaire Town Square.

First Surgical Partners, which owns and operates First Street Surgical Center and First Street Hospital, joined CenterPoint Energy and Chevron as Gold Level donors in Patrons' fundraising campaign for the town square.

"We are thrilled to see First Surgical Partners, a relative newcomer to Bellaire, choose to make such a significant donation," said Mandy Nathan, Patrons president. "Their support for Bellaire and their enthusiasm for Bellaire Town Square are wonderful. First Surgical Partners' contribution reflects our support from the Bellaire business community, and we hope that other area businesses and corporations that have not yet donated will join First Surgical Partners in making this kind of commitment to their community."

The donation furthers Patrons' funding goals for the development of an aquatics center, playground, events lawn, pavilion and skatepark planned for Bellaire Town Square.
